For each AABI-accredited aviation program, institutions MUST accurately publish on the program’s public website, a report of student achievement data including the following information, updated annually:

- The objectives of each accredited program
- Program assessment measures employed
- Graduation rates
- Rates and types of employment of graduates